

Institute of Risk Management
Innovation, Value Creation and Opportunity
Special Interest Group

Seminar

"Managing Risk in Lean Times – Lessons from the Private Sector"

Monday, 29th November 2010
Moore Stephens LLP, 150 Aldersgate Street, London, EC1A 4AB, 15.00 for 15.30 – to -17.30

Speakers: James Preston-Hood, Health and Safety Director for Grosvenor Group Ltd
Paul Clark, Partner, Moore Stephens LLP
Gill Ringland, SAMI Consulting

The public sector is experiencing a period of unprecedented cost reduction to address the large government deficit. The private sector has already been subjected to similar pressures in the economic downturn.

In light of the public sector spending reductions, the seminar on Monday 29th November will look at the risks faced by the private sector, how they manage them and the impact on risk management functions and processes and related business management scenarios in the future.

The seminar on Monday 29th November will be part of a series of discussions by the Innovation and Value Creation SIG, culminating in an interactive workshop at the Global Risk Management Professional Development Forum in March 2011. The SIG's work will produce a useful tips and guidance document drawing on lessons learnt from the various speakers, delegate discussions and subsequent follow up of key issues.

Registration: All are welcome, there is no charge, but spaces are limited. Please register using the email address below. Please pass on the details to others who you think would be interested in attending. shona.conacher@moorestephens.com

How to get to the seminar:

Moore Stephens LLP offices are close to Barbican underground station and about 10-15 minutes walk from: City Thameslink, Farringdon, St Paul's and Moorgate. Please see the map attached for more information.

"Managing Risk in Lean Times – Lessons from the Private Sector"

About the Speakers

James Preston-Hood James has been with Grosvenor Group plc, an international property owner, developer and fund manager, for eight years. James has previously worked for Arup in construction health and safety and the Health and Safety Executive. He is a Non Executive Trustee for Lantra, the land based Sector Skills Council and served on various health and safety groups across the construction industry including: a Board director for the Construction Clients Group (CCG).

Paul Clark Paul is a partner at Moore Stephens focussing on financial property and general business services. He has a broad client base working with property businesses from every area of the sector, including construction, investment, development, engineers and specialist services. Paul also provides strategic planning and business support services to owner-managed and public quoted companies, and has specialist experience in the audit of pension schemes. He acts for around 50 pension schemes, including the provision of internal audit services. Paul will be presenting on fraud risks during downsizing.

Gill Ringland is Chairman and a Fellow of SAMI Consulting, which helps organisations make robust decisions in uncertain times. She is the author of several highly-regarded books on scenarios including Scenarios in Business, Scenarios in Public Policy, Scenario Planning, and Scenarios in Marketing; and co-author with Oliver Sparrow and Patricia Lustig of "Beyond Crisis".